Considerable Volume of Miscellaneous Business Transacted Last Night

The City council was in session about an hour last night. A number of papers were introduced. In the main they were of a general nature, and caused but little discussion in either branch.

Board of Aldermen

Six members of the Board of Aldermen attended last night's meeting. But one paper was introduced, an invitation to the board to participate in the torchlight procession in Washington tomorrow night in honor of President Wilson's re-election. The invitation was accepted. The board concurred in the action of the Common Council on all papers sent in without discussion.

Common Council.

At the request of the board of supervisors of Fairfax county the clerk of the city council was last night directed by council to send a letter to the state highway commissioner advocating the construction of that part of the Little River Turnpike extending from the city limits of Alexandria in Fairfax county to Aldie Loudoun county, Va., a distance of 30 miles of which 23 miles are in Fairfax county, and seven miles in Loudoun county. Funds for its construction will be given by the federal government, state and county.

President Smith explained that F. S. McCandlish, of Fairfax county, had conferred with him on this proposition and wanted council to advocate its construction, he adding that there would be no cost to the city in connection with its construction.

A resolution of Councilman C. Keith Carlin, that the joint committee on streets and finance report advisibility and cost of the improvement of a total of seven squares at the first meeting in December, the work to be done next spring, was referred to the street committee.

The squares proposed to be improvare as follows: Pitt between King and Prince; St. Asaph between Cameron and Prince; Columbus between King and Prince; Patrick between Cameron and Prince; Cameron between Columbus and Washington.

Resolution empowering the finance committee to adjust with the United State Fidelity and Guarantee Company of Maryland the claims of the city growing out of the suit of Morrisson and others against Cooper and others was adopted.

It was explained by Councilman Bryan, chairman of the finance committee, that the amount involved in this claim is $683.

The details of the matter and proposed settlement was discussed by Messrs. Bryan, Smith and Burke.

On the recommendation of the finance committee a resolution was adopted authorizing the collector of taxes to sell property on which city taxes have not been paid to June 1, 1916, commencing Monday, December 18 at 10 o'clock.

Renters of the stalls in the city market petitioned council to make new rules and regulations in connection with the city market building and its tenants. They asked to have the market open from 5 a. m., until 5 p. m., and on Saturdays until 10:30 p. m., and also asked for more sanitary rules and regulations, etc. This was referred to the sinking fund commissioners.

W. S. Nicklin, in charge of the American Indian Guards, requested that during the absence of the Alexandria Light Infantry, the Indian Guards, a boys' military organization, be permitted to use Armory Hall one afternoon and one evening of each week for drill purposes. This was referred to the public property committee.

The city school board desired to know who was custodian of the new high school building and grounds, and this was referred to the committee on schools.

Resolution that the corporation attorney be authorized to ascertain the legal rights of party or parties in closing Reinicker's lane, and that if they have no rights in the premises that steps be taken to remove barricade from lane was referred to the street committee.

CAPTURE FOUR BOTTLES

Alexandria Policemen Endeavoring to Enforce the Prohibition Law of the State.

Four bottles containing liquor, one with a quart untouched, graced the desk in the Police Court today. Three of the men who had been arrested for drunkenness and having liquor in their possession were white. One of this genus, a young Alexandrian caused some excitement on an incoming train from Washington last night. He was drunk and disorderly, and while in that condition assaulted a young man, a fellow-passenger. Chief Goods and Sergeant Wilkinson took him in charge when the train entered the city and he was conducted to the station house and relieved of his bottle. The prisoner was averse to being brought before the Police Court this morning, and was released upon depositing fifty dollars as collateral. He was not present when his name was called this morning.

Two young white men, who said they were from Manassas, were subsequently brought in. They had been arrested by Sergeant Scott and Officer Kerns on the charge of violating the prohibition law. The couple had applied at the station house for lodging last night, alleging that they had come from Baltimore and had missed their train. A partially consumed bottle of gin was found on one and a quart bottle of whisky on the other. They denied having drunk any of the liquor while in Alexandria, and said they had purchased it for their own use, insisting that they were allowed a quart a month. They were disimssed.

A colored man, charged with being drunk and disorderly, was fined ten dollars.

Another ebony-colored individual, was next made to face the bar. Officer Roland had arrested the darkey this morning on the charge of being drunk and falling in the street. The prisoner laughed all the time he was in the dock, alleging that he had only drunk coffee and that he tripped and fell. Justice Caton ordered that he be held a short time in order that he might have an opportunity to substantiate his story.

Another negro, forfeited ten dollars collateral by failing to appear and answer the charge of disorderly conduct.

FURIOUSLY FIGHTS WILDCAT

Naturalist Gets More Pointers in 15 Minutes Than He Seeks

Altoona, Pa., Nov. 15—Caramel Doesch, a naturalist of Petersburg, was painfully scratched and bitten on the arms and body in a battle with a wildcat, which attacked him while he was rambling through the woods two miles from home.

He saw the feline on a tree, but since it was not his custom to harm beast or bird, he passed on. Turning to look at it, the cat had disappeared, and anticipating trouble, he picked up a club.

The next moment the beast sprang at him from the brush, and for 15 minutes he had the fight of his life beating it off, and he finally killed it, but not until his flesh had been severely lacerated.

The members of the Cameron Club are untiring in their efforts to have the Hon. John Barrett, Director-General of the Pan-American Union, speak to a crowded house the 21st of November. They feel that it should be to the credit of the city to have a prominent man see that the townspeople have a civic pride in patronizing a benefit for the school nurse, as well as to honor a man of Mr. Barrett's attainments by having a representative audience.

An advertisement of only five lines, which appeared in the Gazette yesterday, brought the advertiser eight answers today. And yet some people will tell you that advertising doesn't pay because the people do not read the advertisements. Some years ago, just before the flood, there were a number of supposed wise ones who told Noah that it didn't look like rain and they guessed there wouldn't be much of a shower, but the records tell us they got very wet because they refused to take Noah's advice. There are some of the same kind in about every small place and if a search should be made probably a few might be discovered waiting behind the counters in stores in this old town for customers to come in. The wisest men will advertise while the other kind do otherwise, and—get left.

Mr. Williamson says they have called all their salesmen off the road as they have all the orders in hand that can be filled up to next May. THE NEXT HOUSE

Speaker Clark Says He Will Be Elected to His Present Position

"I expect to be elected Speaker of the next House by a majority of at least three votes."

This was the prediction made yesterday afternoon by Champ Clark, Speaker of the House of Representatives. Mr. Clark has just returned from Missouri. His statement, expressed with such conviction, was made after a conference with Chairman Doremus of the Democratic Congressional Committee.

"Mr. Doremus tells me," continued the Speaker, "that the Democrats have elected 212 members beyond doubt and the Republicans can lay claim to no more than 211. There are six districts where the Republicans claim the election, but where the vote is so close that the official count will be required.

"Unofficial advices to our committee indicated that we have carried each of these districts. They are those of Steele, in Iowa; Tavenner, in Illinois; Scully, in New Jersey; Weaver, in North Carolina; Martin, in Louisiana, and Beakers, in Michigan. Two of the small group of independents will vote with the Democrats and other gains will give us the control of the House with absolute certainty."

With Mr. Linthicum were several negroes he was taking to their homes from Rockville, none of whom was hurt. No one seems to know how the accident occurred, but it is supposed that something went wrong with the steering apparatus.

PAINLESS SCALDS FATAL

Stroudsburg, Pa., Nov. 14.—Scalds which gave no pain caused the death in a Scranton hospital Sunday of Jerry Desmond, an engineer injured in a Delaware, Lackawanna and Western cattle wreck near Henryville, this morning.

While Desmond waited for a train to bear him to the hospital, he walked up and down the platform at East Stroudsburg, predicting he would die. Physicians say nerve paralysis prevented him from feeling pain.

The wreck was due to the cattle train colliding with an engine at a siding. Thirteen cattle was killed out of 200 packed in six cars.

YESTERDAY'S ACCIDENT

Bodies of Engineer Goodwin and Fireman Trumble Reach Alexandria Last Night.

The bodies of Engineer J. J. Goodwin, and Fireman Edward Trumble victims of the wreck of a Southern Railway passenger train in the Southern yards at Charlottesville at 4 o'clock yesterday morning, were brought to their late home in Alexandria last night.

J. W. Goodwin, of Gordonsville, a Chesapeake and Ohio baggagemaster, accompanied his brother's remains. Mrs. Trumble reached Charlottesville sseveral hours after her husband's death. She returned with the body, as did several members of the Brotherhood of Railway Firemen.

Engineer Goodwin was buried under the wreck of the tender and two hours were required to get him out. He was a native of Gordonsville and had been in the Southern's employ for 30 years. A brother, Mitchell Goodwin, a Southern fireman, was killed at Cedar Run, about fifteen years ago.

O. W. Loving, of Charlotte, N. C., conductor on the special, had his neck injured.

Eleven passengers were more or less injured.

Opinion prevails that youths playing in the Southern yards at Charlottesville had loosened the brakes and that a jar sent the loaded cars drifting from the siding on to the main track.

Six freight cars, loaded with cotton, lumber and automobiles were splintered and their contents strewn on both sides of the tracks. A big steel car filled with automobiles rolled to the bottom of a 30-foot embankment.

The passenger engine, a total wreck was removed from the track in the afternoon. Traffic was resumed at noon, following construction of special tracks.

Engineer Goodwin lived with his wife and children at 1311 King street. He was the chief engineer of the Alexandria division, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and a member of Alva Aerie, No. 871, Fraternal Order of Eagles, and Alexandria Nest, 1779, Order of Owls. Fireman Trumble's wife and daughter live at 1010 King street. He was a member of the Brotherhood of Firemen.

The funeral of the late James J. Goodwin, will take place from the residence at 3:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The services will be conducted by Rev. Dr. E. B. Jackson, pastor of the First Baptist church.

The funeral of the late Edward Trumble, will take place at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, from the residence. The services will be conducted by Rev. Louis Smet, pastor of St. Mary's Church.

NAGGED LOVER A SUICIDE

Young Man Blows Brains Out as Brother Protests.

Pottsville, Pa., Nov. 15—While his brother and two companions were rushing frantically toward him, Elmer Miller, 19, of Lorberry Junction, near Tremont, raised a revolver to his head today and blew his brains out. The action was committed because Miller was criticised for buying a pair of shoes for his sweetheart.

Learning that Elmer was contemplating suicide, his brother and companions ran toward the hill where he stood, the brother shouting: "My God, Elmer, don't do that."

Elmer waited until the trio were within 30 yards of him, and then, with a smile on his face, committed the fatal act.

MASS MEETING TONIGHT

Everybody is Invited to be Present at the Opera House This Evening —To Complete Plans for Parade.

The meeting of Citizen held last night at the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce to arrange for Alexandria's delegation in the parade to be held in Washington tomorrow night attracted a large attendance. Dr. W. M. Smith presided with J. H. Trimyer, secretary.

Reports were listened to from the various committees in charge and much enthusiasm was mainfested.

Another mass meeting will be held in the Opera House this evening at which time final arrangements will be concluded.

Congressman Carlin last night offered to pay the expenses of chartering the steamer Macalester to carry those who are to go and take part in the parade providing it can be secured. A committee is in Washington this afternoon to try and arrange for the steamer. Indications are that the city will be represented by the largest delegation that ever went out of the town for a political demonstration of the kind. Two bands of music have been engaged and it is possible there may be three.

Torches, red fire and flags are being arranged for in abundance for the use of those in the parade. C. B. Swan of Swan Brothers offered to supply the flags.

Reports last night showed that the High School Cadets, numbering about 100, the Boy Scouts with about 90, besides the firemen of the city will be included in the local delegation. W. S. Nicklin, manager of the American Indian Guard Band, announced that the band accepted the invitation and would be on hand.

The finance committee of which Capt. Albert Bryan is Chairman is active and held a meeting at 10:30 this morning. Several generous contributions were made last night.

J. Fred Birrell and Kenneth Ogden were appointed a committee last night to secure the use of the Opera house for tonight's meeting. They immediately got busy and in five minutes that was arranged, which indicates the interest and quick action that is being manifested in taking care of the matter.

All citizens are invited to attend the mass meeting at the Opera house this evening, irrespective of party or creed, as it is desired that the demonstration shall be by the citizens of Alexandria as a whole—the entire community.

Go, and invite your neighbor to accompany you!

LATER—Committee reports steamer has been chartered.

STAFFORD TO RECOVER SEALS

Turn Up in Oyster Bay, After Being Removed From Courthouse During Civil War.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Nov. 15.—The great seal of Stafford county, Virginia, and the Circuit Court seal of that county, which were taken from the Stafford County Courthouse by Union soldiers during the War Between the States, turned up in Oyster Bay yesterday. They are in the hands of Edward R. Summers, deputy town clerk. The seals were sent here from Virginia in 1862, by his brother, Charles G. Summers, then a captain in General Sickles' brigade Since the war, the citizens of Stafford county have made various efforts to recover the lost seals. Until the present, the whereabouts of the Stafford seal, like that of the great seal of the neighboring Fairfax county, Virginia, has remained a mystery to Virginians, despite their eagerness to recover them.

The attention of Mr. Summers was called yesterday to the letter of a Virginian recently published in a New York paper, appealing for information concerning the Fairfax county seal. He told of his two wartime relics, and, upon being informed of the search for them, immediately wrote a letter to the clerk of Stafford county, offering to return them. The two instruments are in excellent preservation. Captain Summers, who sent them here from Virginia, died in 1905. During the latter part of the war he was a commander in President Lincoln's body-guard. The Summers family is one of the oldest on Long Island.

PLEASANT INCIDENT RECALLED

During the early part of the winter of 1904, while a strike was in progress in the anthracite regions of Pennsylvania, great anxiety prevailed concerning the prospects of procuring coal, the great desideratum while snow is flying. During that memorable winter this commodity sold as high as nine dollars a ton in Alexandria. Coal merchants in this city had banks of coal in their yards at the time which had been purchased during the previous summer at normal figures and which the firm purposed to furnish people of Alexandria at old prices. Washington dealers came over and offered substantial advances on regular prices, offering to take the entire supply and to remove the coal at their own expense. The offers were declined and coal was furnished to Alexandrians during the winter season at old prices.

Anxiety as to the supply of coal is again in evidence. This is especially so in Washington, and attempts are made to deplete the supply in Alexandria in order that the people of the capital city may suffer no inconvenience. A day or two ago parties from that city came to the Alexandria yards and offered tempting prices if the entire stock on hand would be turned over to them. The would-be purchasers offered to send their trucks here and carry the coal away at their own expense. The offer was respectfully declined by the proprietors of the yards for the same reasons given twelve years ago.

It affords the Gazette sincere pleasure to call attention to such evidences of loyalty to Alexandria's people on the part of its business houses.

MARTIN FOR LEADER

It was announced in the Gazette last week that Senator Martin, of Virginia, was a prominent candidate for Majority Leader of the Senate in the near future. While papers in his own state have naturally given much prominence to this movement, it is gratifying to know that the usefulness of the senior Senator from Virginia is appreciated by many outside his state. The following from the Washington Post of this morning will be read with pleasure by Mr. Martin's many friends throughout the country:

The Democrats having a safe majority in the Senate, the question of selecting a leader to succeed Mr. Kern, of Indiana, will engage the attention of that side of the chamber. Mr. Kern was ably assisted at all times by Mr. Martin, of Virginia, chairman of the committee on appropriations, and much of the credit of the Democratic party's accomplishments during the last four years belongs to Mr. Martin. It would be fitting and prudent to select him as the majority leader of the Senate.

Mr. Martin's experience as a legislator has been extensive, and his knowledge of governmental affairs is equaled by few public men. His attitude as head of the great committee which exerts potent control over governmental expenditures has been acceptable both to his colleagues and to the country. Taking a broad view of the activities of the government, and at the same time keeping a watchful eye on individual items, Mr. Martin has pursued a course that was neither parsimonious nor prodigal. In the fierce campaign debates the opposition was unable to find anything in the record of the appropriations committee to discredit the Democratic administration or the party. On the contrary, the country registered distinct approval of the manner in which the government's disbursements was allotted. No meritorious agency or activity of the government was starved; no really desirable improvement was denied funds; but the committee under Mr. Martin's guidance carefully eliminated extravagant and useless expenditures.

In addition to the arduous labor involved in perfecting appropriation bills, Mr. Martin has always been active in general legislation and in holding together the majority in matters of general policy. His tact in dealing with his colleagues, his personal popularity, his fairness in all things, his long service and his ability to devise acceptable plans for majority action—all qualify him admirably for the position of majority leader.

INDORSES' ENFORCED PEACE.

Makers, interpreters and administrators of law in the Southern States have put themselves on record in favor of a constructive scheme of world-statesmanship intended to insure peace with justice for the nations after the present war is over. A number of Southern Senators and Representatives in Congress have written to Wm. H. Taft, President of the League to Enforce Peace, indorsing the program of that organization.

"The purposes of the League to Enforce Peace meet my earnest concurrence,' writes Andrew J. Montague, Representative from the Third District of Virginia. "The juridicial system obtaining within nations must sooner or later, obtain in some form between nations. How its judgments are to be effectuated will afford room for differences of opinion; but the interests of civilization deserve and demand some method of enforcement."

Deportation of Belgian civilians into Germany for forced labor has reached such serious proportions that American Charge Grew at Berlin has been directed by the State Department to take the matter up personally with Chancellor von Bethmann Hollweg. The husband of the dead woman had lived at the house for a year before his marriage last July and friends of the man are alleged to have told a coroner's detective of the jealousy aroused in his boarding mistress over his marriage. The accused woman has a husband and three children, the youngest 10 months old.

A strange pact by which William F. Hussman sold his pretty wife to a man ten years his junior ended fatally yesterday in St. Louis, when Ralph H. Shotwell, the purchaser, shot Hussman through the heart. The deal was arranged a week ago, Shotwell promised to pay $500 for Mrs. Hussman within a week, and she, acquiescing in the sale, promised to pay part of the money herself. Convinced that Shotwell was trying to evade payment, Hussman went to his home yesterday, and after an argument drew a revolver. His weapon failed to discharge and Shotwell killed him. An examination showed that the main spring had been removed from the elder man's revolver.

Hiram W. Johnson has been eliminated as a 1920 Presidential possibility by both Hughes and Roosevelt devotees, according to authoritative information at Republican headquarters in New York, When returns indicated yesterday that the Golden State governor had annexed about 200,000 plurality for United States Senator and Hughes had run behind him at least 3,500 more, both Hughes and Roosevelt managers agreed that they would try to make him an impossibility for head of the national ticket four years hence. Hughes' leaders changed Johnson with treachery to their Presidential candidate. Roosevelt leaders declared Johnson is in the Colonel's way and must be eliminated if the Colonel is to be the next united Republican-Progressive nominee.

Fearing that the President's wife has "excessive social ambitions" and will revive the inaugural ball next March 4, the Conference of Union Methodist Ministers of St. Louis, has formally resolved to ask President Wilson not to authorize the ball. The resolution, introduced by Rev. Marvin T. Maw, and Rev. Elmer Clark, at the convention in Centenary Church, asks the President "not to reverse himself in a matter which Christian people approve."

KEEP THEM ON THE GO

British Strike Blow After Blow in the Valley of the Ancre

London, Nov. 15—Without allowing the Germans a moment's pause to recuperate from the sudden thrust in the valley of the Ancre before dawn Monday, the British during the last twenty-four hours struck blow after blow on this new battlefield, adjoining that of the Somme.

In the ferocity of the attacks, as well as in the measure of success already scored, the battle now under way astride the Ancre brook bids fair to rival, if not outdo, the great Somme combat.

Capture of the village of Beaucourt was the outstanding result of today's fighting. Having flung his claws into the western outskirts of this hamlet—small, but a strategic value—in Monday's initial onrush, the British lion throughout yesterday pounded his way deeper and deeper into the German defenses, until with the approach of dusk the Teuton commander withdrew the last remaining scattered defenders.

Beaucourt-Sur-Ancre is the third village to fall into British hands since Monday morning. The loss of the two others, Beaumont-Hamel and St. Pierre Divion is admitted by the Berlin war office.

"Considerably more than 5,000 prisoners", the British high command reported last night, "have been taken since the Ancre battle began." Again the statement adds: "More are coming in."

SECOND CASSIE CHADWICK

New York, Nov. 15.—Miss Annie E. Sharpley, who has been termed a "second Cassie Chadwick," is in New York and with only a $5 bill to her name.

Nevertheless, Federal and private agencies' search for her Monday was fruitless. The investigators wish to question her about her involved business affairs in Chicago.

The woman borrowed $81,000 on no other security than her personality and ingeniousness, lost it in various business ventures, and disappeared. Mrs. T. B. Blackstone, a woman of wealth in the Western city, was one of the many who gave her money.

She is said to be the same Annie Sharpley who made thousands of dollars in 1908 by "raising postal money orders."

In Philadelphia alone she fleeced various hotels and individuals out of $31,000. She operated under her own name and also under various aliases.

Before leaving Chicago the woman told her lawyer that she had been blackmailed for years by a former sweetheart, with whom she had an early romance in Glasgow, her native city. She said his hounding even extended across the Atlantic.

In Chicago she first came into the limelight as a raiser of fancy poultry for people of wealth on the North Shore. She said also that she was the author of a drama of which Belasco was the publisher. It was called "Lights Ahead," and was a barnyard drama.

According to Federal records, she has served at least two terms in Eastern jails.

Two years before she had been arrested by Postoffice Inspectors Jacobs and Meyer for "raising" money orders in Philadelphia.

Her police record goes back to 1898, when she was working as bookkeeper for a paperhanger named Russell. She speedily made the acquaintance of customers, and induced a man named McConnell to mortgage his home and advance her $2,500 to go into a land improvement scheme. The property was only on paper.

Before this was discovered she convinced several business men that through politicians in the tax office in Philadelphia she could get a certain house at a big secrifice under city foreclosure proceedings. She obtained $6,000 by this means.

She dropped from sight for two or three years. Next she was heard from when she began prosecuting her scheme of "raising" $1 money orders to $100. She made tens of thousands of dollars in this way and was in a fair way to become extremely wealthy when detected.

Before her first jail sentence it was figured out that she would be forced to serve one hundred and sixteen years in prison if all complaints against her were pressed.

SAVES DAUGHTER

Advice of Mother no Doubt Prevents Daughter's Untimely End.

Ready, Ky.—"I was not able to do anything for nearly six months," writes Mrs. Laura Bratcher, of this place, "and was down in bed for three months.

I cannot tell you how I suffered with my head, and with nervousness and womanly troubles.

Our family doctor told my husband he could not do me any good, and he gave it up. We tried another doctor but it did not help me.

Then my mother advised me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic. I thought there was no use for I was nearly dead and nothing seemed to do me any good. But I took eleven bottles, and now I am able to do all of my work and my own washing.

I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world. My weight has increased and I look the picture of health."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, get a bottle of Cardui. Delay is dangerous. We know it will help you, for it has helped thousands of other weak women in the last 50 years.

OF each $100 received in revenue by the Southern Railway Company, approximately $40 is paid in wages to employes who live in the Southern States;

$7 is used in the South for miscellaneous operating expenses;

More than $3.50 of each $100 received is paid out in the South for taxes;

Thus $70.50 of each $100 received by the Southern Railway is spent in the South, although less than $70 of every $100 received by the Southern Railway is derived from the South.

In other words, the Southern Railway is every day bringing new money into the South.

THE NEW TEMPERANCE DRINK PABLO

"You Can't Tell the Difference"

That is what they all say regarding Pablo, the new non-alcoholic beverage we are now offering to the trade.

Pablo is an unfermented beverage does not contain malt and is absolutely non-alcoholic. It is not a near-beer and should not be confused with the many so-called temperance drinks now being marketed that are really nothing more than fermented malt beverages, with a percentage of the alcohol extracted, the sale of which is liable to be accompanied by risk of prosecution.

Wherever Pablo has been introduced it has met with almost instant favor and popularity, proving to be a good repeater. As compared with other soft drinks, Pablo is in a class by itself—a drink with character and snap to it. It is of a sparkling amber color and has that pleasing hop tang that is a never-failing, never-tiring delight to the taste and which at the same time makes it a refreshing healthful and invigorating beverage.
